

Five Reasons Why You Should Try RSA Claims Point™

Have you heard of RSA Claims Point™ yet?

It's RSA's online portal through which policyholders can submit their Personal Insurance claims. Streamlined and easy to use, RSA Claims Point™ will help us resolve your future claims more efficiently.

Here's why you should try RSA Claims Point™:

1

Online options are more popular than ever.

From banking to shopping, we're dealing with more and more transactions electronically. We know customers like you want processes that you can use effectively and efficiently on a range of devices. Your broker can also help you walk through the process, if you're not quite ready to submit a claim on your own.

2

Claims representatives are assigned quickly.

It used to take up to six hours to assign a claims representative to claims submitted via email. Because RSA Claims Point™ automates the process, we can assign an adjuster to a claim in minutes instead of hours, saving you more time.

Documents are uploaded easily, instantly.

RSA Claims Point™ allows you to upload all supporting documents in one easy place—no more documents getting lost in communication between you, your broker and your claims representative. The portal also gives you real-time updates on the claim's progress, making for more seamless communication.

4

Information is preloaded.

Your policyholder information comes preloaded in RSA Claims Point™, saving you from having to enter personal details on every claim. Prefilled information also ensures greater accuracy on important details, making sure names and addresses are always spelled correctly.

5

It's secure and safe.

Password-protected and entirely confidential, RSA Claims Point™ keeps all of your claim information safely stored. Best of all, every bit of information is searchable and easy to locate once it's been entered.
